About Our Company

Hilliard & Brock is a multi-national trading and manufacturing concern. We buy, sell, and produce a little bit of everything, and have been since 1945, when Eustice Hilliard partnered with Geoffrey Brock after World War II to produce consumer-grade power tools and aluminum siding for the housing and baby boom.

Today, Hilliard & Brock sells anything from carbonated soft drinks to automobile tires, and everything in between. And we can do the same for your company, too.
